To earn enough

Why the wes

To earn enough money to buy your new bike, you have to clean your neighbours car and help them clean their garden 8 times.

I think that working for your neighbour and earning money for your hard work is better than somebody giving a bike to you for free. I think this because, when you put all your effort into something and you what you are working so hard for makes you determined, and when you are determined you know you have the strength power and strength to achieve any goals you set yourself in life.

If you are given a bike for free and you don't have to work hard for it and earn the money to be able to buy, I think the bike yourself. I think working for things you have is better than being given them for free because, when you are given something for free you will carry on living your life thinking that you don't have to work hard for things you want in life. That everytime you see something that you want instead of spending hours, days or weeks working for your labour in him/ her's garden you just get it for free.

~~In conclusion I think that working to earn money to pay for your bike is better than being given a b~~

I think your friend will be upset because he will be wondering why you don't want to use his bike.

In conclusion I think that I am right to work for my neighbour because firstly it will make me more determined in life and make me realise that if I really want something I have to work hard to get it. Secondly it will give me the determination to achieve bigger goals in life. Also I think that if you want something you have to work hard for because you can't always get things for free.
